4th-grade scores strong in science—weak in writing

SAD #44 4th-graders—on average—scored slightly below the state average in their Maine Educational Assessment tests given in February.

The recently released test results show the district 4th-grader average near the state level in social studies and humanities, somewhat below it in mathematics and well below it in writing. However, in science, local 4th-grade scores were above statewide scores by a significant margin.

Overall, the SAD #44 scores are similar to other districts having similar economic and social profiles.

As was the case with the 8th-grade test results—released earlier this year—there was a substantial gender gap in the performance of SAD #44 boys and girls

In these two classes, the district's girls' scores were above the state averages in all areas but writing, well exceeding the average in science and humanities.

The boys' scores, however, fell below the statewide boys' average in all areas of the test. They were far below the average in humanities; and in writing the district score was only 100, the lowest score possible on the test. (Test scores are reported on a scale of 100 to 400 points.)

Eighty-eight 4th-grade students, from the district's three elementary schools, took the test. As the relative scores indicate, their strongest performance was in science, especially life sciences, and their poorest in writing, especially ex-

LAST FEBRUARY, Arla Patch—of the school district's Creative and Talented Program—submitted the art work of eight of her students to the 23rd Maine Student Art Program, sponsored by the Bangor Daily News and the University of Maine at Orono. These eight works of art—two from each elementary school in the district, were among more than 2,000 works submitted statewide. Four SAD #44 children—Michelle McInnis, Grade 2, Samuel Sayen, Grade 1, Sarah Paul, Grade 1, and Per Sandstrom, Kindergarten, were among 500 chosen for a week-long display at the Bangor Mall. From that exhibition of 500, two children from the Woodstock School—Michelle McInnis and Samuel Sayen—were selected to receive Certificates of Merit. Their art works will become part of a traveling exhibition of 150 pieces which will be seen across the state of Maine during the next year. The photo at left shows Per Sandstrom and Sarah Paul with their works of art; photo above shows Michelle McInnis and Samuel Sayen with their Certificates of Merit.

Record company forms; issues first cassette tape

The Outlook, Maine's premier 24-track recording studio and audio production company, this week announced the formation of a new independent record label, The Tourmaline Music Group.

The new company will operate out of the Outlook recording studio, which has been located on Rte. 2, Bethel, since 1980.

The first release by the Tourmaline Music Group is a limited edition cassette by The Twitch, titled "orgone box". The cassette contains 12 original songs by the band, engineered and produced by Ted St. Pierre and recorded at The Outlook. They have been duplicated in real-time on premium quality Maine-made Shape cassettes loaded with chrome tape for audiophile quality.

The Twitch take their name from the logging term for moving wood, and the title song "orgone box" is about a controversial Maine invention.

Nineteen-year old Rebecca "Perky" Martin is the dynamic lead vocalist, Connor St. Pierre sings back-up and plays bass guitar, Ted St. Pierre is the lead guitarist, and Bill Harper is the drummer. The songs included on the cassette are roots-oriented rock, and capture the live energy and feel of the band.

The Twitch have plans to be performing locally this summer. Release of "orgone box" on record is planned for this summer as well. In the meantime, songs from the album have been receiving airplay on college radio, and advance orders have been piling up. The cassette is available direct from The Outlook, and will be in stores next week.

The Tourmaline Music Group, named for the gemstone which is so abundant in this area, plans recording and release of new artists in a wide range of styles to support local music and artistic endeavors. Record production and music

Andover voters approve 60-foot height restriction

The approximately 35 voters who turned out for special Town Meeting in Andover last Thursday night deliberated long and hard on the half-dozen articles presented to them. When the discussion and voting were over, voters had, among other measures, imposed a 60-foot height restriction on structures in the town.

This measure was almost immediately questioned by MCI officials, who said they would like to build a new antenna at the former COMSAT site their company recently purchased. The new antenna was likely to be well over the new height limit. "They can, of course, seek a variance."

Voters also approved raising and appropriating an additional $890 for ambulance service for the town. Annual Town Meeting had originally appropriated $5,154 for that account. However, due to the changeover in management of Keegan's Ambulance Service, the cost to the towns being served is expected to increase.

Special Town Meeting also agreed to set a fee of $2 for licenses for innkeepers and victualers. Voters also agreed to

Appeals Board gets fallout from site plan ordinance

The first two disputes arising from Bethel's new site plan review ordinance will be taken to the Appeals Board. Both disputes involve the question of what constitutes a change of use.

According to the ordinance, one of the conditions that brings the ordinance into force—and requires a permit—is a change of use in a particular piece of real estate.

In two recent instances, the Planning Board sought—and failed—to have property owners apply for a permit under the ordinance. The two properties in question are Brian Strickland's Main Street storefront and Peter Robichaud's West Bethel apartment house.

The former used to be the RFD #1 Restaurant. It then became a real estate office and now, since early this month, is one of Groan & McGurn's video and gift stores.

The latter had been a residential property and has been expanded to accommodate more families.

The Appeals Board, which has had nothing to do for the past four years, has a full complement of members. No date has yet been set for a hearing of the two cases.

While the two cases are the first to be sent to the Appeals Board for a decision, they are not the first to raise the question of when it is appropriate to invoke the site plan review ordinance.

Last fall, when new owners purchased what had been the Crow's Nest Gift Shop, on Rte. 2 and sought to turn it into a video store, the Planning Board deliberated for months on granting the permit. Some argued that although the type of business would change, the shop would still be a retail establishment—whether dealing with gifts or video. There was no formal complaint from the applicants and the permit was finally granted. The shop is now Casablanca Video.

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

Mother's Day was a beautiful day, and I hope all mothers were happy.

The Community Club held its monthly meeting at the Vatcher's on Tuesday evening. Secretary and Treasurer reports were read and accepted. It was voted to have our next supper May 28. The regular menu and assorted pies. This is a superb time. The lines will be laid on the hot across from the Community Hall (that was donated to the club last season) by May 14. Then we will know where to start to build a parking lot.

The apple orchards were being sprayed on Wednesday.

Eveline had a doctor's appointment Monday, then X-rays at Stephens Memorial Hospital. The picture showed a broken vertebrae on right side, and it was fusing together. No work for three weeks, just relax and keep quiet, so for the present she is sleeping in her recliner as it saves having a bad breathing spell on arising.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Carol Ann Chamberlain, R.N., on her recent passing. She was one of our North Paris Girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coffin and son called on his father, Arnold Coffin, on Sunday.

Callers at the Lawrence's: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., Lloyd Huntley and daughter, Ginny, and Patty Lawrence.

Don't forget the supper and dance, May 21, at the West Summer Grange Hall for the Heart and Cancer Fund. Where old friends meet. Let's dance.

St. Robert Ilsey, stationed in Holland, has sent pictures of his tulip gardens and they are beautiful, also a large windmill. The Bethel Citizen had some extra readers this week, as Bob showed the boys where he came from.

Has anybody been hanging May Baskets? In the good old days it was fun to hang a May Basket or two or three a time, even if there wasn't candy in them. Notes have changed.

THE JACKSON-SILVER POST'S POPPY GIRL this year is Angela Lovejoy, a fifth generation American Legion member. She is 11 years old and is in the 5th Grade at Crescent Park School. She is flanked by Mary Lyon, the newly elected president of the Jackson-Silver Post, and Brian Strickland, the newly elected commander of the Jackson-Silver Post. Poppy Girl Angela will be selling poppies this weekend, and on Memorial Day, May 30, will be leading the parades in Locke Mills and Bryant Pond.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

I did some hoeing today in my Iris and Lily bed. When May arrives there is a basic faith in most of us, in the country, that planting is a secure thing. The earth gives us so much for so little. Here in Maine our easiest crop is stones. We don't have the rich black loam of the midwest but if we plow and rake and maybe add some lime or fertilizer, put in our seeds, and do a reasonably decent job of getting the weeds out, we get a bountiful crop.

The small envelopes of seeds have not even a slight suggestion of the tender corn, rosy, crisp radishes, juicy tomatoes or sweet peas that are somehow found in them. They rest there in the earth until suddenly one morning there appears a green film over the garden. The miracle has again begun whether it is a garden of vegetables or of flowers.

The whole land has a changed look, now that winter's etching is gone. Everything is blossoming under the warmth of the sun. I noticed this as I walked the bulldozer road to the farm fields.

Song sparrows sang from tree tops. Red wings flashed their scarlet epaulets. Mole tunnels meandered by the gate.

Pausing by the old cellar I listened to the robin's song. It descended from the topmost branch by the wall which was stippled with the green of unfolding leaves. The notes were loud and clear, but unlike the quality of its relative, the hermit thrush, in the dark woods. But all the notes now carry across the fields. They have the sound of cheer, energy, courage and of returning life. They bring optimism to those who listen.

I looked for the blue violets. Whose heart has not been gladdened at sometime or another by the glimpse of some fresh green nook in early May where purple violets lurk? It seems that no other flower is so suggestive of the dawning year, so associated with the days when life is so full of promise. Prophets and warriors, as well as poets, have favored the violet.

A humble-bee droned, drifting slowly in search for an underground nesting place.

Every now and then I paused to sweep the scene around me, sometimes rapidly, and sometimes prolonged.

I realize that I have an emotional as well as a visual memory. It is often concerned with scenes and appearances, shifting colors, fragrances, lights and shadows. Even when I was very young I remember standing entranced looking at a sunset from the porch, altered minute by minute. I like to preserve them permanently. I have been a lifelong hoarder of memories.

I sat for a time in the warm sun then moved on to visit at the farm.

Later I returned home by the road, realizing that the alarm clock of spring has really sounded.

Marion Pulsifer had the Tuesday Club at her home on May 3. We enjoyed a full afternoon.

As usual, I read Lorraine Mill's column and I, too, was interested in the remarks made by the editor about the same names being written each week. How true, but how here ever call me if they have something they wish to have in the paper. I'm sure people know me and I'd be pleased to hear from them. I send my

EDUCATORS' SEMINAR OFFERED THIS SUMMER

The American Institute for Creative Education, in Augusta, will offer a Summer Educator Seminar at Gould Academy entitled "Using whole language strategies in the elementary classroom (K-6)." This seminar will be held August 10, 11, 12, 15 and 16 and carries three college credits from Unity College in Unity (acceptable for recertification purposes).

"Using whole language strategies in elementary classrooms" will cover an introduction to whole language principles and philosophy; focus on meaning-centered activities related to literature, writing and language; emphasize enjoyment, increase comprehension and confidence for beginning readers, writers and language users; how to actively teach the reading-writing connection; how to organize supportive reading sessions; focus on activities such as chants/charts/big books and strategies centering around literacy. Many predictable books and enlarge print ideas will be shared and an opportunity to share and create activities and materials will be provided.

Educators interested in further information and registration forms, should contact AICE as soon as possible, at 23 University Dr., Augusta, or call 822-5662.

column in the Monday morning mail, so give me a call.

On different days this week I had as callers: Carl and Lettie Brooks, West Paris; Rena and Dot Curtis, Nita and Katherine Hakala, Dot Betts, and Fay Holt, local; and Ann Holt, Bethel.

Saturday, Ann took her mother to visit David, Sally and Mary Holt. We went out for lunch and Fay was surprised when the waitress brought her a lighted candle to honor her birthday and again surprise at the close of the meal when presented with a carnation for Mother's Day.

On Sunday, Robert, Jeri, Ricky and Jennie Holt of Windsor visited Leonas and Fay Holt. Robert helped install a new television set for Fay's birthday and Mother's Day. A gift from her children, Robert, Ann and David. As an aunt I was very well remembered with cards and flowers.

Eva Felton and daughter, Kathy, were in West Summer with Eva's daughter, Lucy Bragg, on Sunday.

Most of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis were home for Mother's Day. On Thursday visitors there were Colista Cogswell, grandson Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gower and daughter from Freeport.

Rena Curtis was in Brunswick on Wednesday to visit her sister, Ruth Collins. One day she visited her grandson in Bowdoinham.

Dorothy had as visitors Mildred Bowman, Hebron; Ralph and Regie Leeper, Wiscasset; Kathy, Rena and Fred Curtis and Eva Felton, town; and Alton Kimball, West Paris.

Irene Stevens has returned from Tugus.

IRIS SHOW AT OXFORD HILLS

The Maine Iris Society will host its 13th Annual Median Iris Show, Saturday, May 21, at the Oxford Hills Junior High School, Pine Street, South Paris.

Median iris in five categories, as well as seedlings, will vie for awards. Seedlings are those iris bred and grown for several years before being introduced and released for sale to the public. It is an excellent opportunity to see new breeding results from the area hybridizers.

An artistic division allows exhibitors to show their creative abilities in the form of arrangements. Six categories are planned for this year's show.

Spring flowers and wild flowers cultivated in the exhibitors' gardens will be displayed and will give the public a chance to see beautiful specimens first hand.

This is truly a colorful display of fragrant iris and spring flowers with over 500 different varieties exhibited.

The 13th Annual Median Iris Show will be open to the public 1-6 p.m. For further information, call John White, 345-9532, or Mimi Bell, 743-8081.

Gould Academy's Top Ten

At a recent morning assembly, Gould Academy's Associate Headmaster, Dr. Harry "Dutch" Dresser, announced names of the 10 Gould students who will graduate at the top of the academic ladder.

The Valedictorian is Glen W. McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McLaughlin of Saratoga, Calif. Glen's forte at Gould has been in science curriculum, with a particular flair for computer programming. In a specially arranged honors course, he and Dr. Dresser have designed an extensive data base for the management of student records, which is now an integral part of office operations at Gould. He has participated on both cross country and lacrosse teams. He will attend Carnegie-Mellon University in the fall.

Penny Durcilova, daughter of Mirko and Sofia Durcilova, of Skopje, Yugoslavia, attended Gould this year as an exchange student under the auspices of the American Academic Youth Exchange. The John H. Todd family, in Bethel, has been her host family. While her interests are in composition, literature and drama, Penny has used her year to explore some new areas—spherical trigonometry applied to navigation at sea, research into NTL's influence on the Bethel area and honors work in design and drawing. She returns to Yugoslavia in early June and will continue to pursue admittance to a college in the United States.

Rebecca Garnett (National Honor Society, dormitory proctor), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Garnett, of Newcastle, has studied at Gould for four years. Becca has lettered in field hockey and lacrosse and has ventured into the winter mountains of the Mahoosucs with the Academy's Winter Mountaineering program. She has also been active in the Polar Bears, a group of Gould students who take an early morning dip in Songo Pond, twice weekly, rain or shine, as soon as the ice goes out and until graduation. Becca will begin an honors program at Trinity College, in Hartford, Conn.

Ruth Giles (National Honor Society, dormitory proctor), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Giles of Bangor, has been at Gould for four years as was her father, who graduated in 1947. Ruthie has lettered in soccer, basketball and softball and will attend Smith College.

Beth Hill (National Honor Society), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gary Hill, of Bethel, is a four-year Gould student as was her father, who is also a member of the Gould English Department. Beth has lettered in field hockey and softball, has taught skiing in the school's "Rug Rat" program—an afternoon project where Gould students teach local elementary school children how to ski—and recently spent three weeks in Costa Rica as one of the first Gould students in the Gould-Costa Rican exchange program. Active in drama and the school chorus, Beth will attend Simmons College.

Cameron Larkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Larkin, of Essex Junction, Vt., has been at Gould for one year, lettered in cross country and has been an active volunteer in Blue Key, Gould's volunteer program for admissions. Cam will attend the University of Vermont.

Christine McCarthy (National Honor Society, dormitory proctor), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCarthy, has studied at Gould for three years, has lettered in soccer and softball and has been a standout in women's slalom and downhill skiing, placing first in several state ski meets. Chrissy is also active in chorus, drama and Blue Key. She will attend Cornell University.

Samuel McGee (National Honor Society), son of Marcia Smith of Bethel (Gould '61) and Laurence McGee of Shrewsbury, Mass., has lettered in cross country and cycling, has winter camped with the Winter Mountaineers and has been an active member of Gould's chorus and drama group during his two years at Gould. Sam will attend Skidmore College.

Stuart Newall, son of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Newall of Cristobal, Republic of Panama, has spent two years at Gould, during which he has lettered in soccer and played JV lacrosse. An active volunteer in Blue Key, Stuart will attend Bentley College.

Lisa Todd (National Honor Society), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Todd, of Bethel, is a four-year Gould student, as was her father, who is Director of Development for the Academy. Lisa has lettered in field hockey and soccer, has been an instructor in the "Rug Rat" program, is co-editor of the yearbook and will be the Class of 1988's Class Agent. Lisa will attend Wheaton College.

These 10 students will join 55 of their classmates at graduation exercises on May 28.

Deer season dates set

The Maine Fish and Wildlife Advisory Council, upon recommendation of the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, has approved the dates for the 1988 deer season.

The firearms season statewide will run from Oct. 31 to Nov. 26. Maine residents will be allowed to get a head start on the season on Oct. 29. The special archery season will be Oct. 14 to Oct. 23, while the muzzleloader season will be Nov. 23 to Dec. 3.

The council also voted to approve the 1988 any-deer permit allocations proposed by the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. A total of about 44,500 permits—an increase from last year's 38,000 permits—will be issued, with the goal of killing 7,000 adult does. There will again be 17 districts, with permits being allocated to all but District 17 in eastern Maine.

Permit applications will be available early in June from town clerks, license agents, sporting goods stores, or offices of the Fish and Wildlife Department. Non-residents who held 1987 big game licenses will receive application forms directly by mail.

There is no fee to apply for an any-deer permit, but applicants must have a valid Maine license that allows the hunting of big game. Fifteen percent of the permits will be allocated to non-resident hunters, based on license sales records of past years.

Hunting will be limited to bucks-only statewide for all hunters not obtaining any-deer permits and for permit holders hunting outside their designated districts.

The deadline for applying for a 1988 any-deer permit is Aug. 15. The drawing will be in late September and permits will be issued to successful applicants in early October.

Old Parisians to play at W. Sumner Grange

The Old Parisians orchestra will be playing for a dance on Saturday night, May 21, at the West Sumner Grange Hall, beginning at 8 p.m. until midnight. The proceeds will benefit heart and cancer patients. Some of the Old Parisians who will be performing are Lenwood "Pete" Andrews, Ivan Proctor, Roland Bennett and Richard Abbott. From 8 to 9 p.m. there will be early bird dancing and entertainment in the upstairs dance hall, with Vern Inman as emcee. During the dance there will be a Special Prize Waltz. The main raffle prize will be a covered bridge painting, of the Allagash area.

The Grange will be serving supper from 5:30 to 7 p.m., which will benefit the Grange.

By VIVA WHITMAN

A beautiful morning for a change and we will sure take advantage of it. We did need the rain, and it will help the soil and the fires that are burning in New Hampshire, etc., but it does seem good to see the sun.

Russell has dug and planted when he could and made trellises for the climbing roses he set out when the weather wasn't so good—so he makes good use of his time.

I finally got my sewing done for my little girls' birthdays and got them wrapped yesterday, ready to take with me tomorrow when I go to help babysit for the weekend and attend all the functions going on at that time. Wanted to use up the small pieces of cloth and they wouldn't have been large enough for another year the way the girls grow, so I used them this year. It is simply amazing how the children grow. Don't seem as though we realized it so much with our own as we do with others. Don't know why that is.

Wynona came up for me on Saturday and I went to Lewiston to stay overnight and go to Happy Jack's for Mother's Day lunch. What a crowd and a waiting line, even with reservations, but the food was delicious when we got it. Their smorgasbord was great, with all kinds of good things for one to choose from and all very tasty. There was a line of folks there most of the time, so one could see how popular it was with everyone.

Russell, Penny and I had been to South Paris to Grange for the afternoon just before Wynona came. We had come for lunch and the meeting in the afternoon and helped out on the program. Penny and Russell went to West Paris in the evening to the dance. They said it was good and the music was good, so they had a grand time.

I have been extra busy getting my sewing done this week and so I did it for the moment. Still have things to sew up but no rush jobs at the moment. Also have house cleaning waiting for me to do and it sure doesn't do itself.

Grace Yates has finally gotten through work and retired. They plan to go on a trip real soon. They are hoping to get to Alaska with other folks and sure I hope they enjoy themselves. Just a little envious, as I would love to be able to travel and see some of this wonderful country.

I guess Florida is the only place I will get to and didn't see too much of that as I was working while there. The only way I could go at all. Have wished I could get to Colorado to visit our brother who lives there, but I don't expect to and Alaska sure seems out of the question, but I love to hear them tell of the country and how lovely it is. Of the fishing, which I loved to do when I was younger, and of seeing

By VIVA WHITMAN

A beautiful morning for a change and we will sure take advantage of it. We did need the rain, and it will help the soil and the fires that are burning in New Hampshire, etc., but it does seem good to see the sun.

Russell has dug and planted when he could and made trellises for the climbing roses he set out when the weather wasn't so good—so he makes good use of his time.

I finally got my sewing done for my little girl's birthday, ready to take with me tomorrow when I go to help babysit for the weekend and attend all the functions going on at that time. Wanted to use up the small pieces of cloth and they wouldn't have been large enough for another year the way the girls grow, so I used them this year. It is simply amazing how the children grow. Don't seem as though we realized it so much with our own as we do with others. Don't know why that is.

Wynona came up for me on Saturday and I went to Lewiston to stay over night and go to Happy Jack's for Mother's Day lunch. What a crowd and a waiting line, even with reservations, but the food was delicious when we got it. Their smorgasbord was great, with all kinds of good things for one to choose from and all very tasty. There was a line of folks there most of the time, so one could see how popular it was with everyone.

Russell, Peggy and I had been to South Paris to Grange for the afternoon just before Wynona came. We had gone for lunch and the meeting in the afternoon and helped out on the program. Peggy and Russell went to West Paris in the evening to the dance. They said it was good and the music was good, so they had a grand time.

I have been extra busy getting my sewing done this week and so glad it is done for the moment. Still have things to sew up but no rush jobs at the moment. Also have house cleaning waiting for me to do and it sure doesn't do itself.

Grace Yates has finally gotten through work and retired. They plan to go on a trip real soon. They are hoping to get to Alaska with other folks and sure I hope they enjoy themselves. Just a little envious, as I would love to be able to travel and see some of this wonderful country, but I guess Florida is the only place I will get to and didn't see too much of that as I was working while there. The only way I could go at all. Have wished I could get to Colorado to visit our brother who lives there, but I don't expect to and Alaska sure seems out of the question, but I love to hear them tell of the country and how lovely it is. Of the fishing, which I loved to do when I was younger, and of seeing all the bears while camping and fishing and watching them catch the salmon in the streams. Just got to have a good imagination and think of the sights one would see if they went there and wish others good luck and a good time—and I sincerely hope they do.

The peas are up and growing and so is the spinach, but the chard doesn't seem to be doing as well. The bleeding heart is doing very well and grows every day. It will soon have blossoms on it, and the sweet peas that Russell planted are growing. Took them a while to come up but now are doing fine. The rhubarb is growing by leaps and bounds and will soon be ready to use. Wish I could convince my African Violets to grow a little faster. Got to get some others somehow, but it takes time to grow them from leaves and get them to blossom.

However, have a lot of little ones coming along and they will grow faster than one thinks. It is fun to see a plant develop from a leaf and grow, then blossom. The blossoms on African Violets sometimes change and I don't know the reason but they do. One time the blossom will be single and maybe the next time it will be a nice double blossom. They can be a little odd at times, but very pretty. I hope some day to try to cross some of mine and see what the results will be. Russell gave me a book on violets a year or two ago, and it tells how to do it and I want to try it and see what happens. It could be most interesting.

Russell and I went up to see Lawrence and Grace last night to play Trionomies, and while there got a call from brother Tom in Colorado. It is always good to hear from him and find out how he is doing.

Oh, yes, last Sunday, Peggy went up to Loretta in the afternoon and was taken out to supper in Berlin. She said she enjoyed it very much. It is always nice to have your children take you out to eat, so you don't have to cook and you get a nice change in food. Someone else's cooking always tastes good for a change.

Hope all will enjoy the lovely weather. Get out and take a hike or something to get the fresh air. I hope to do the same. Take care and have a good week.

Senior students at Gould Academy have begun the traditional Senior May Project program that allows them to finish their academic work early to pursue a special activity.

Each senior qualifying for a project will have three weeks to become involved in a program not normally covered in Gould's regular academic schedule. Projects this year run the gamut from on-campus activities to places all over the United States and in Europe.

Senior projects have long been a tradition at Gould, serving as a transition between high school classes and the first year in college. Seniors have already been accepted into a college or university and the less-structured Senior Project affords them the opportunity to work independently in a setting more like that encountered in post-secondary

Gould inducts eight into National Honor Society

At a special evening assembly last week, eight Gould Academy student-scholars were inducted into the Gould Chapter of the National Honor Society (NHS).

To be eligible for NHS consideration, a student must have maintained a minimum average of 85 in all academic work and received a majority vote of the faculty. The qualifications for membership are scholarship, character, and demonstrated talent for leadership and service to the school and community.

Seniors elected were Beth Hill, Betsy Ingram and Kim Simmons. Miss Hill is the daughter of Gary and Carolyn Hill, Bethel, and has spent four years at Gould. She is a mainstay of both the varsity field hockey and softball teams and taught local elementary school children how to ski in Gould's "Rug Rat" program. Beth is an accomplished musician and spent three weeks in Costa Rica as part of Gould's exchange program with that country. She plans to attend Simmons College in Boston next fall. Betsy Ingram comes from La Mesa, Calif., and has spent three years at the academy. She is active in varsity cross country skiing and lacrosse and as a member of Blue Key. Gould's student service organization, and as a member of the school's yearbook staff. She has been accepted for fall entrance at the University of Denver and Lewis and Clark College. Miss Simmons is a Lewiston native and has been at Gould for two years. She has been very active in the music and drama program, both as a leading actress and behind the scenes heading the stage crew. Kim is a member of the women's varsity tennis team and serves as a proctor in her dormitory. She plans to attend Trinity College in the fall.

Three juniors were elected: Amy Ford, Bethel; Todd Kim, Rumford; and Laura Ordway, Bridgton. Miss Ford is spending her third year at Gould and is a member of the varsity field hockey and lacrosse teams. A "Rug Rat" instructor and a member of the choir. Mr. Kim is also a three-year Gouldite and plays on the soccer, basketball and golf teams. Todd is one of Maine's outstanding young golfers and has been invited to play in junior tournaments both in Maine and elsewhere in the States. He also spent three weeks in Costa Rica as part of Gould's exchange program. Miss Ordway also has spent three years at the academy and is a member of the field hockey, ski and lacrosse team, Blue Key and has been elected a proctor for her senior year.

Elected for provisional membership in NHS were sophomores Monica Burk and Kevin Davis. Monica comes from Bethel

By ALEX GILLIES

On May 4, the 4th-graders went to the Moses Mason House. Dr. Howe (our guide) told us about Bethel during the Civil War. He told lots of interesting facts that no one knew. He told us about the doctors who didn't know how germs could hurt people. Dr. Howe also said 300 people went to war from Bethel. Twenty-five died and 60 came back to live in Bethel.

In P.E. (physical education) we are studying track and field. We get to jump hurdles, run short races and have relay races. The latest news at recess is there are basketball games every recess. Usually around 10 people play. A lot of kids have started wearing shorts; they have been wearing T-shirts for a long time.

Children's Center

For the past two weeks the children have been learning about different jobs in the community. They have talked about occupations such as firefighters, policemen, woodsmen, teachers and mothers and fathers!

A walking tour of Bethel is planned for Thursday, May 19. Each teacher will take a small group of children and cover different areas of town. This will allow the children to get a first-hand view of various jobs while they visit local businesses. If the weather cooperates, everyone will meet on the Common for a picnic lunch.

A very special "thank you" goes to the Unicorn Flower Shop and Judy Dutcher. Judy helped each child pot his own plant. The zinnia and dahlia seedlings, pots and soil were all donated by The Unicorn. The children enjoyed the activity and are waiting for the flowers to grow and blossom.

Three year old Matthew Walker has been "Star of the Week". Matthew lives in Bryant Pond with his father, Tom.

Chapter 1 family night set for May 19 at Telstar

It will be Family Night again tomorrow (Thursday) for the Chapter 1 programs in SAD #44. The annual event will take place at the Telstar Regional High School cafeteria from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

All Chapter 1 students in the district and their parents are invited. Featured in the program will be a magic act by the popular local magician Jeffery Mills, better known as our local representative to the Maine House of Representatives.

The Books-n-Things bookstore, from the Oxford Plaza, will again present a book fair, with exceptional buys available.

The district's Chapter 1 teachers are: Jean McGuire, at the Andover Elementary School and Telstar Middle School; Kathryn Conrad, at the Woodstock School; Debra German, Marianne Walton and Joanne Riley, at the Crescent Park School; Eva Bowers and Lee Barth, at the Ethel Bisbee School; and Natalie Timberlake, coordinator.

In addition to the show and fair, they have tasty treats planned, to make the evening enjoyable for all.

The Chapter 1 program is funded under the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981. In SAD #44 the program provides supplemental instruction in reading, math and languages for underachieving students in grades K-8.

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Milton visited his mother on Mother's Day.

Mrs. Sharon Goldsmith, her mother, Sylvia Andrews, and grandmother, Lill Harnon, called on Olive Davis, Sunday afternoon. They brought Mother and Aunt Cards to me and a beautiful white carnation, which I found here when I returned from attending Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bisbee's 50th Anniversary party with Carl and Lettie Brooks.

The Old Parisians and others will have their annual benefit dance, May 21, 8 a.m. to 12, for the Cancer and Heart Fund, at West Sumner Grange Hall. A public supper will also be served at 5:30 by the Pleasant Pond Grange. They hope everyone will come and enjoy themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Towne called on their aunt, Olive Davis, Monday afternoon. It was quite a surprise as I had not seen them for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Olive Davis attended Oxford Pomona at Bear River, Newry, Tuesday.

Robert White and son, John, sprayed and repaired the roofs all around that needed it on the Davis' homestead, Thursday.

The Rawleigh Agent was in town this week.

Saturday we attended Paris Past Masters Day in the afternoon after a fine dinner.

Fowler's Repair Shop serviced the moving equipment for Olive Davis, Saturday. Jim and Kristina Miclon have done the moving for the first time now and things are looking better. Kristina has her garden in.

Esther Davis went to church at West Paris, Sunday. She also went to Patricia Tibbets, her daughters. They took dinner at Market Square Restaurant for Mother's Day. They also attended a birthday party in the afternoon for Sam Sweetser at Bryant Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews came to my house to rotolint the garden for me and remove the double windows for the summer. We got the screens in, also, so we are ready for the bug time too. I went

Locke Mills

By LORRAINE MILLS

The Locke Mills Union Sunday School closing services will be held May 22 at 9 a.m., followed by a picnic at the athletic field at 11 a.m. Games will be planned. Parents and children are invited.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary will meet Monday, May 23, at 6:30 p.m., at the Fire Station.

The Locke Mills Youth Group will be going to Rockcraft, May 27, and coming home Sunday, May 29. They were very pleased with the support of the car wash, which netted around $90, and the bottle drive—no figures available yet. The church was rather busy that day, as besides the Youth Group activities in the parking lot, Seni Little got married in the church. Following that there was a burial at the cemetery. But everything seemed to work out smoothly.

The Pastoral Search Committee met Wednesday evening at the home of Dick Melville, Nash Garabedian Jr., interim pastor, attended and helped out with future planning. There will be another meeting May 25 at the home of Leland Dunham.

Sunday, May 8, was a busy day for the Harry Swan Jr. family as they celebrated Mother's Day and birthdays with a cake and ice cream party. Those having birthdays were Todd Swan and Dorothy Swan, both on May 10, and Stacy Swan and Rebecca Swan, both on May 11. It was Stacy's seventh birthday and Rebecca's fourth birthday. Those present were Marion Swan, Edith Rowe, Bruce and Debbie Swan with children Stacy and Josh, Jeff and Dorothy Swan with children Rebecca and Doug, and Harry Jr. and Margery with son Todd and his friend Lisa.

Kitty Fox, Bethel, visited Lorraine Mills, Thursday evening.

Claire Smith, Wallingford, Conn., had lunch with Vera Cross, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills were in Dryden, Sunday, Mother's Day, visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Marcia and Jon Smith. They ate out at a restaurant in Farmington and enjoyed browsing through Mr. Paperback.

Harry Swan Jr. has been on vacation from Gilbert Manufacturing this week. The Community Club met Tuesday with seven members present. Edna Cole received the gift. Charlotte Cole played 12 tunes and Vera Cross named the most. At the next meeting Marion Swan and Barbara Wakefield will furnish the refreshments. Members are asked to bring something for a silent auction.

Val and Caroline Greene, Sudbury, Mass., were at their house on Howe Hill over the weekend.

Tena Morgan and daughter, Zylpha Emmons, called on Charlotte Cole, Saturday.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

Pleasant Valley Bible Church, of West Bethel, will be holding a two-day Missionary Conference on May 28 and 29. Guest speakers will be John Hosie (Africa), Larry and Melissa Strout (Argentina) and Donna Woerter (Alaska).

The first session will begin at 1 p.m., May 28, with groups for all ages. At 2:45 there will be an ice cream smorgasbord and a softball game, relay races, etc., weather permitting. At 5:30 there will be a potluck supper. The evening service will run 6:30-8:30 with skits and special music and slides and a message from John Hosie.

Sunday morning's activities will begin with a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Donna Woerter will have a special presentation for Sunday School (all ages) at 9 a.m. Morning worship will be 10:11:30 with Larry Strout as guest speaker. The weekend will conclude with a picnic lunch swap following the worship service. For further information call Debby at 836-3763 or June at 824-2037.

Valerie Cole will be one of 900 graduates of Plymouth State College on May 21. She will come home for a short vacation following her graduation and then will go to Cape Cod to work for the summer as a swimming instructor.

Roy and Claire Smith of Wallingford, Conn., and Vera Swan and Clara Whitman, of Bryant Pond, and Vera Cross and John Suto were present at a cookout at the home of Ken and Nellie Swan on Paris Hill, Sunday.

Those taking part in the track meets from Greenwood this spring are Tony Jordan, Todd Swan, Dennis Swan, Ben Bolan and Stephanie Crockett. The M.V.C. meet will be May 21 in Gardiner and the regional meet will be May 28 at Bowdoin.

The Greenwood Fire Department was called out to a grass fire behind the church Saturday. It was quickly extinguished.

Yes, it was your correspondent that took an unexpected ride to Stephens in the Tri-Town Ambulance, Thursday. I really only intended to have one of the attendants check me when I began to experience such severe dizziness I would nearly pass out, but they didn't like what my pulse, etc., read, so off I went. I discovered that it does not pay to pile wood for five hours, after having a stomach virus for several days, without drinking liquid. They tanked me up with saline which seemed to do the trick quite nicely. Since the dehydration depleted the potassium I'm having to take supplements for a while. We certainly have a delicately balanced system!

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The ninth annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show will be held on Saturday, May 28, beginning at 10 a.m. and will continue throughout the afternoon until 4 p.m. Featured during the day will be an exhibit of student art (Grades 1-6) from SAD #44 plus the work of local artists. This show honors the memory of local artist and Bethel Historical Society member Faye Taylor (1908-1972), who was particularly interested in children's art. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The following day, Sunday May 29, 2-4 p.m., the 199th birthday of Dr. Moses Mason will be observed with an open house reception. Featured during the afternoon will be the opening of an exhibit on the Dr. Moses Mason House, this year celebrating the 175th anniversary of its construction. Society Director Stanley R. Howe will also speak during the afternoon about the 175-year history of the house. The reception is open to the public and anyone interested in attending is cordially invited to do so.

Last week the fourth grade social studies class at Crescent Park School visited the Moses Mason House. Dr. Howe described the effect of the Civil War upon Bethel and showed students some of the Civil War items in the Society's collection. Miss Newcomb's 5th-grade class completed videotaping the production they are doing on life in the 1830s. This was filmed both inside and outside the Moses Mason House, with students performing some of the ordinary work of the 1830s, such as carding and washing clothes. The finished product is expected to be shown later in the year to a monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society.

Newest corporate member of the Society is the Bethel Inn and Country Club. The latest individual members are Richard and Wendy Penley, Bethel; Mary M. Little, Presque Isle; Anita B. Ferrand, Gilead (new life member). The Society's Garden and Grounds Committee met last week to plan for this summer's garden activities. Plans are well underway to expand the variety of plants included in the garden as well as filling the new garden area begun last year.

NEWS FROM THE BETHEL AREA
Health Center

The last in the series of programs under the Administration of Aging will be presented on Thursday, May 26, at the Bethel House Community Room from 4-5:30 p.m. The speaker will be Bethel's favorite pharmacist, David Preble of Prim's Drugstore.

The subject for this program will be of great interest to all who are concerned about allergies, insect bites, sunburns and, yes, wrinkle creams, medications and skin bleaches.

David will also address the use of sunscreening products, so that everyone can safely enjoy the golden summer ahead.

The mini-series has proven to be most successful. Staff at the Bethel Area

Health Center want to thank all of the participants for their enthusiastic acceptance of this series.

Another great program will be presented in the fall. Watch for articles in September concerning our fabulous self-care program.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tanguay, of Gorham, N.H., recently celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary at a reception held in their honor at the New Hampshire Vocational Technical College, in Berlin. Mr. Tanguay and the former Celia "Arlene" Brown, of Bethel, were married by the Rev. J. Vachon, of Holy Family Parish, on May 5, 1948.
